

For Immediate Release

Contact: Joel Tokarz
Chassis Holdings, Inc.
joel.tokarz@chassis.com
248.728.8648

Chassis names Michael Beyer chief financial officer

SOUTHFIELD, Mich. – Apr. 6, 2016 – Chassis, a global automotive supplier of precision casting and machining solutions, has named Michael Beyer chief financial officer.

Reporting to Doug DelGrosso, president and CEO, Chassis, Beyer is responsible for providing strategic guidance and oversight to corporate finance, treasury, financial planning and analysis, reporting, tax, and investor relations.

“Michael’s extensive knowledge in the automotive industry and his significant finance and accounting background will serve us well as we continue on our path of continued growth,” said DelGrosso. “His outstanding reputation and leadership experience makes him an excellent addition to our senior leadership team.”

Beyer has over 25 years of financial and accounting management experience, most recently serving as chief financial officer of Wolverine Advanced Materials. Previously, he served as corporate controller for Affinia Group, and held increasingly responsible finance and accounting roles over a 14-year period with Dana Corporation.

He earned a bachelor’s degree in business administration from the University of Toledo and a master’s degree in business administration from Bowling Green University.

About Chassis

Chassis is a $1.6 billion, privately held global automotive supplier. The Company is focused on delivering high-quality, precision ductile iron and aluminum chassis components, with more than 4,500 employees in 23 locations in every key region of the world.

###